Your gift can change a child's life...

Traditionally, Christmas is the season of giving. Parents love to surprise their children at this time—it's all part of the joy. It's a time of celebration, family, and generosity...unless of course, you're behind bars.

Every Christmas, Second Chances SA delivers presents to over 500 children, right here in South Australia, for imprisoned parents to give to their children in person on family visiting day. What a joy it is to silently watch these special moments between a child and their parent at Christmas, to see the child's face come to life as they receive a gift from their imprisoned mum or dad.

It starts with people like you who make these Christmas miracles possible.

Why Christmas Angels?

Children of prisoners can feel left out and lonely at Christmas. Some of them may not get any presents at all. Seeing other families come together only serves as a harsh reminder that dad or mum cannot be with them.

Christmas Angels is a special program run by Second Chances SA to make sure these children are remembered at Christmas time. This doesn't replace an absent parent but it does provide a way for the imprisoned parent to give their child presents during Christmas visiting times.

The Realities

The generational cycle of crime can be reversed. We are reaching out to the children of prisoners because they are the forgotten. A simple gift can have a huge impact on a child's sense of worth and self-esteem.

The Gift

Your gift to Christmas Angels can make a child feel accepted and not forgotten, this Christmas.

The Promise

Our promise is to deliver the gift and the gift starts with you.

Your donation to Christmas Angels provides a child with two brand new, beautifully wrapped presents – all for just $35 per child. Your gift this Christmas will have a real impact on some of the most vulnerable children in South Australia.
