FROM THE CHAIRMAN

They said, "You won't last the year" – but we did. After 20 years with a national charity, we moved away 1 February 2015 to form an exclusive South Australian charity. We wanted to be more holistic, focussed and expand our programs specifically on the needs of the invisible victims of crime – the children of prisoners. Three years on, we've navigated through uncharted waters, stayed the course and steered our way to establish ourselves, thanks to key leaders on our governance and our visionary CEO. The Board (9) and Advisory Panel (7) members are all volunteers who give their time, wisdom and influence generously. Their collective guidance has paved for a strong and solid start. We are quietly expectant the next three years will record further growth and expansion with the primary objective of restoring hope and dignity to prisoners' kids; giving 'second chances' to people who have no hope of a life after prison and vocational training opportunities to vulnerable youth, diverting them from Detention and leading them to a pathway of employment.

TIMOTHY MINAHAN
CHAIRMAN

FROM THE CEO

For two years we dreamt of relocating to ground floor offices, on a traffic corridor not far from the city precinct. As at 1 January 2018 we entered into a three year lease on 229 Fullarton Road Eastwood giving us our own place with off street parking. I am buoyed by the unparalleled commitment of our volunteers who work weekly in the prisons, Op Shop, Furniture Warehouse and office plus those who give their weekends for many PK Mentoring Camps. Each one believes in the cause and value of giving and receiving 'second chances,' especially to those seeking to turn their back on destructive behaviours. We believe early interventions for PKs works, provided we get there early enough. We know South Australia can be the leading light to the nation in our crime prevention initiatives, to divert PKs from Detention and prevent the next generation of PKs going to prison like mum or dad. Join us on our journey of 'restoring hope' to PKs and their families.

HELEN GLANVILLE
CHIEF EXECUTIVE

OUR STORY

WHAT WE DO

We bring hope to those re-entering society on completion of their sentence, to help them stay away from crime, giving them a 'second chance.' Our in-prison volunteers provide practical helps such as banking and storage of property. We mentor those who want help into community housing options. We work with prisoners' kids and their caregivers to divert them from entering Detention through home visits, purchasing school uniforms and shoes, school visits to prevent truanting and PK Mentoring Camps for primary age and teens. We provide Christmas Angels and PK Birthday presents so PKs know they are not forgotten, are accepted and have a sense of belonging and value.

WHY WE DO

We give 'second chances' to those caught in the criminal justice system. Making good changes is not easy, especially when one feels the stigma of rejection and has had little education, family support or positive friends. Giving 'second chances' restores hope for a new future. It can lead to completing education, vocational training opportunities and employment pathways. When someone is transformed from a life of crime, damages to property and people are reduced; victims are prevented and the once unemployed commence paying taxes or community volunteering. Transformed lives results in social impact, economic benefit and common good.

OUR CHARITABLE STATUS

Second Chances SA Inc is an incorporated association under the Associations Act and as a Public Benevolent Institution with the Australian Tax Office has Deductible Gift Recipient (DGR) status. We are registered with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC).

BRINGING HOPE
Offering the chance to change

Bringing Hope is our in-prison volunteering program. Each week Second Chances SA volunteers visit prisons right across South Australia- providing friendship and practical support including banking and property storage. To break the cycle of crime we focus our attention on giving those in prison the opportunity to turn their life around. Our volunteers support prisoners before and after release - providing mentoring and friendship as they encourage those they come alongside to live crime-free futures.

*SA Department for Correctional Services (2018)

Over the past three years we've:

- ◆ Recruited and trained 8 new weekly in-prison volunteers across six SA prisons.
- ◆ Stored property for over 1000 prisoners.
- ◆ Signed a partnership agreement with Cornerstone Housing to provide post-release accommodation.
- ◆ Arranged suitable accommodation with mentoring for over 30 prisoners returning to the community.
- ◆ Contributed to Chapel Services in Mobilong, Cadell and Mt Gambier prisons on a monthly basis.

All our services for prisoners and their families are at no cost to them or the Department.

"The general population will never see or know of the self-sacrifice and dedicated service that your workers give to the prisoners so I want you to know that someone notices and I am very thankful. It is the small and practical aids that your workers give that makes life for some just that much more bearable."
Rev Ian Schneider, Principal Chaplain SA Prisons

Second Chances SA in-prison volunteers work in eight prisons across South Australia including Mobilong, Cadell Training Centre, Mount Gambier, Adelaide Remand Centre, Yatala Labour Prison, Adelaide Women's Prison, Port Lincoln and Adelaide Pre-Release Centre.

Second Chances SA in-prison volunteers Bryan Sellars, Tony Rogers and Graham Wait believe in restoring hope in the lives of prisoners at Yatala Labour Prison.

Jason's Story

"Upon release, a Second Chances SA volunteer came to Church with me and kept in regular contact. I felt like someone had my back and I wasn't alone in getting my life on track. Second Chances SA has helped me to see some parts of the community will support me and perhaps my life will be better than it was before. They support my desire to gain employment, get an education and turn everything around."

PK Family Care exists to support children and families with a parent in prison. The team provides home visits, school uniform packages, support, advocacy, and agency referrals – all with the goal of strengthening families and keeping PKs (prisoners’ kids) out of the criminal justice system.

We give ‘second chances’ to PKs because it is not their fault. Children do not choose the family they inherit. They’re often discouraged and taught negative values. We teach them good values and how to make good choices for their own lives.

PK Family Care is a uniquely South Australian program funded by the Department of Community and Social Inclusion (DCSI).

Prisoner’s Kids:
The Invisible Victims of Crime Report

In 2016, we officially released Prisoner’s Kids: The Invisible Victims of Crime, an evidence-based report, prepared by Nova Smart Solutions, examining the importance of a holistic approach to crime. The report highlights the importance of addressing the unique needs of prisoners’ kids and diverting them from generational crime via projects specifically tailored to their needs, such as PK Mentoring Camps and PK Family Care.

Key findings included:

- “...imprisoning a parent increases the likelihood of their children becoming incarcerated by up to six times.”
- “PKs remain largely invisible and do not feature as a priority for government policy and statutory welfare bodies.”
- International research shows “social programs targeted to support PKs has a positive impact on their lives and a very high return.”

Winning GOLD in Canberra!

In 2017, Second Chances SA took home a Gold Award in Canberra at the Australian Crime and Violence Prevention Awards (ACVPA) in the community-led category. The award came in recognition of Prisoner’s Kids: The Invisible Victims of Crime report and the unique work of PK Family Care.

“[PK Family Care] is the only project of its kind in South Australia and possibly Australia, and is a big step in confronting the next generation of criminals.”
Nicole Rose PSM, Acting Director, Australian Institute of Criminology

Meet Matt

Matt* is a 14 year old boy. PK Family Care came alongside him when he was in trouble with the law and disengaged from school. PK Family Care supported Matt by advocating at his school, coordinating for him to attend a Teen Boys PK Mentoring Camp, encouraging him to set goals and equipping him to reengage with his education.

Prisoners’ kids are seven times more likely to go to prison than their peers

Restoring dignity with school uniforms

Keeping PKs in school is a key factor in keeping them out of the justice system. For many PKs and their families, new school uniforms and shoes are luxury items. Sadly this can lead to PKs being teased or bullied. Over the past three years, PK Family Care with the financial support of Local Government and philanthropic organisations has equipped 102 PKs with school uniform packages. This is an effective way of giving PKs dignity, value, a sense of worth and the confidence to continue their education.

“I can’t thank you enough for the wonderful blessings you have given to my family. The shoes and uniforms take a huge stress off of us at this time.”

Supporting Hidden Heroes

When a parent goes to prison – what happens to their children? In many cases, it is grandma or grandpa who step up and keep their families together and out of State Care. PK Family Care has supported over 40 grandparent caregivers over the past three years. These hard-working grandparents are the hidden heroes of our suburbs and communities. PK Family Care come alongside and support grandmas like Margaret* who returned to work to cover the extra financial burden of raising a child and Grace* who needed a new home to accommodate her four grandsons.

“Raising my granddaughter is a pleasure, even though it’s a full on, hectic life. It’s worth it. It’s not something we’d ever planned for. We were in a totally different stage of our lives. My hope for my granddaughter is that she will do great things – and I’m sure she will!”
Jenny, grandma and carer to 9 year old granddaughter

“I always walk past and just dream. I never go into shoe shops because I know I can never afford them.”
A very happy grandma after a PK Family Care worker took her three grandchildren shoe shopping for good quality school shoes.

PK Mentoring Camps are custom-designed specifically for the children of prisoners. Each year, we run multiple camps for primary and high-school aged PKs – creating opportunities for mentoring, character development and building community with peers facing similar issues.

Through a range of experiences, PK Mentoring Camps are designed to instil belonging, value and acceptance in PKs - teaching them vision-planning while having loads of fun through challenging and rewarding activities.

"It's a very sad situation for a child to lose a parent because of poor choices, bad behaviour and breaking the law. I know because when I was a little boy I visited my dad in prison. We come alongside these kids to give them hope and encouragement to make good choices for their own lives. Seeing them grow in confidence and become leaders and mentors to their peers is the greatest reward!"

Rescuing PKs Diversion from Detention

Children and young people with a parent in prison are seven times more likely than their peers to enter the criminal justice system. In 2017, we delivered Rescuing PKs, a unique program designed to develop the leadership capacity of 24 PKs aged between 12 and 18 years old.

Funded by Fund My Community, a State Government initiative, the project consisted of six residential leadership retreats focussing on perseverance, self-worth, team work, respect, leadership and practical life skills. Many of the program's graduates are now volunteering as peer leaders in PK Mentoring Camps.

Cassie's Big Day

Cassie is a six year old little girl with a big day ahead. She and her Mum will be visiting her Dad at Cadell Training Centre for the annual Christmas Family Fun Day.

For Cassie and many other children just like her, travelling to Cadell is a tiresome trip – a two hour journey each way. After arriving at the Training Centre, everyone lines up for their security check.

As soon as she gets onto the grassy area, Cassie excitedly makes a mad dash into the arms of her Dad – their special day can now begin.

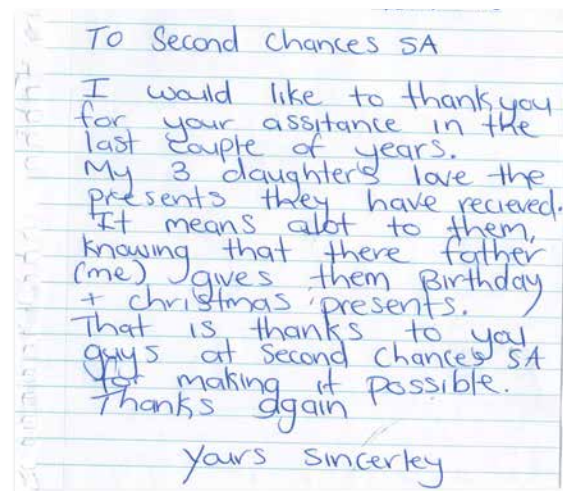

As Cassie and her parents find themselves a picnic table to settle at, Cassie's Dad gives Cassie her two presents, kindly provided by donations and generous sponsors.

The face painting, bouncy castle and carousel rides continue until reluctantly it's time to say goodbye to Dad and return with Mum to the bus for the long trip home.

Henry Olonga brings Christmas joy

In 2016, we teamed up with our Second Chances SA Ambassador and former international cricketer, Henry Olonga to create a one minute Christmas Angels video promo for community groups, churches and social media. Find the video at secondchances.org.au or our Facebook page.

Bringing the band!

In addition to a special delivery of Christmas Angels presents to Cadell's Christmas Family Fun Day – we also bring the band.

In 2017, UnderSouled, a Blues Brothers inspired band, brought a sense of excitement and great entertainment to make the day just that little bit extra special.

PK BIRTHDAYS

Keeping parents and PKs connected

Birthdays are an important occasion in the life of children. For those with a parent in prison, birthdays can be a time of sadness or fear they have been forgotten. PK Birthdays exists to remind PKs they are valued and loved by their imprisoned parent on their special day.

It started with a present

"When in prison my mother requested a birthday present be sent to me. Thanks to Second Chances SA it was the best present I'd ever received from her. I was definitely not in a good place at the time. I was almost suicidal. I've been attending PK Mentoring Camps ever since and today I'm studying at Uni and am a leader on PK Mentoring Camps for Teen Girls. I'll never forget that special birthday present."

Michelle

"I would like to say a VERY BIG THANK YOU to you and your staff for organising a birthday present for my daughter who turned 11 years old today. Words cannot express how appreciative I am to you all."

SECOND CHANCES OP SHOP

Second Chances Op Shop is a volunteer-driven retail outlet providing affordable pre-loved goods to the local community to raise funds for Second Chances SA programs. Second Chances Op Shop sells everything from clothes, toys, kitchen items, books, homewares and much more.

10 Years Later!

In October 2017, Second Chances Op Shop celebrated ten years with a fun-filled week of activities. City of Marion Mayor Kris Hanna and the 1079 Life Roadies were our special guests.

Helen Glanville, Di Whyte (founding Op Shop Manager) and Mayor Kris Hanna cut the store's special tenth birthday cake.

Working with Community Corrections

In July 2017, we were approached by Edwardstown Community Corrections (ECC) to help their Special Needs Program for individuals doing community service. Every Wednesday, Second Chances Op Shop sends newly arrived clothing and bric-a-brac donations to ECC. Participants in the program sort and quality check the donations before folding and returning new stock to the Op Shop – ready for sale.

SECOND CHANCES FURNITURE WAREHOUSE

Second Chances Furniture Warehouse provides a retail outlet for larger donated items like furniture, white goods and electrical items. Second Chances Furniture Warehouse not only raises funds to support Second Chances SA programs but also teams up with other community organisations to provide affordable, good-quality home furniture packages.

Special thanks to Volunteer Manager Liam

Furniture Warehouse volunteers generously give their time. One customer writes: Thank you to the volunteers for helping remove the furniture from my mother's house. They were absolutely terrific!

In 2016 we relocated the Second Chances Furniture Warehouse from St Mary's to Richmond just six months after receiving a Toyota Hino Truck 300 series, granted jointly by the CMV Foundation and Cooper's Brewery Foundation. Without this truck we would never have been able to deliver and furnish the huge number of furniture packages requested by many NGOs who rely on our assistance for their clients.
