

Are you a Christmas Angel?

Just imagine, you're a child and you have a parent in prison. For hundreds, if not thousands, of South Australian young people, that is their reality this Christmas. For most of these families, they have already spent 2020 without seeing each other in person due to social distancing restrictions. Christmas this year may not be any different.

This is where, together with you, we can play a small part in creating opportunities for families to bond and connect after a difficult and separated year.

With your donation, Christmas Angels provides two brand new presents for an imprisoned parent to give their child. Reminding them they are loved and not forgotten.

Together with your support we're strengthening families, building self-worth and bringing joy to kids doing it tough.

To get involved, call 8272 0323 or visit secondchances.org.au.

"I just wanted to say a massive thank you for everything you do and the presents you got my children. With a one income family, Christmas time can be hard with one parent in prison."
-A grateful mum

It's all in the giving!

Christmas won't be the same this year. Low security prisons which usually host family fun days and Christmas parties, will not be going ahead due to health safe-guarding measures. For many families this is the one day in the year which feels a little bit 'normal,' spending some fun time with dad or mum; bouncy castle, carousel, running games on the grass, music from visiting bands and some special prizes and treats for the children.

While Christmas Angel presents will be delivered for the parent to give at Christmas visiting times in December, we anticipate more deliveries to the child's home will be requested, due to the limited visiting times and long distances some families need to travel, especially to country prisons.

We love to see the joy on the faces of the children, especially seeing them run and play on the grass and in the sun while mum and dad look on as a family together. Not their crime. Not their fault.

The best feeling of happiness is when you're happy because you've made somebody else happy. We will do our best to report back to you the happiness you're making possible for the families torn apart by parental incarceration.

If you want happiness, start giving. Because the happiest people in life are givers, not the receivers.

Stay Safe, Happy Christmas and Travel Well into 2021,

Helen Glanville
Chief Executive

Getting in early

Families who have lost a parent to prison, often feel a little lost. Someone they live with is no longer around. There's a vacant spot in the lounge room, and the children ask when they will see their missing parent again. When a child faces emotional trauma at home, they often play up at school and that's where we come in.

Second Chances Family Care workers Sarah and Alison, visit the children at home, and connect with their teachers at school, to help keep them focussed on their continuing education. In some instances, our team arrange private out-of-hours literacy and numeracy tutoring for young people at-risk of falling behind, thanks to a small grant from the Department of Education. For Alex*, having access to personalised tutoring has transformed him from a disengaged student to a young man engaged in his own future and hopeful for what it can look like.

For this important service to continue beyond 30 June 2021, we submitted a tender to State Government in early October to deliver Intensive Family Services across Adelaide. Professional family services must always be delivered by professional staff who are recognised and respected by government departments and other agencies.

Diving into an ocean of opportunities

Ask Sophie* about clownfish or rays and watch her eyes light up. "I always knew I wanted to work with animals," she says. Currently completing her final year of a Bachelor of Marine Biology and Aquaculture, Sophie is ready to kickstart her career.

Growing up, Sophie's home life can only be described as disruptive. With a dad addicted to drugs and her parents stuck in an unhealthy and abusive relationship, Sophie and her siblings found themselves caught in the middle. "We only used to live a couple houses down from the school so everybody knew what was happening," Sophie says. "I didn't want anybody to think different of me because of my dad."

Since joining Getting Ready for Take Off, Sophie has already noticed changes within herself. "I've felt a lot less stressed financially," she shares. "My Life Coach is always there to talk to; providing support and encouraging me with reaching goals."

The future is bright for Sophie. She concludes university at the end of this year and has already been offered employment utilising her marine biology training.

Christians should go to prison!

For the past two years, Zinedine Nicholls has spent every week volunteering in a place most of us spend our lives avoiding – prison. “A belief that people can change given the right help” is what motivates Zinedine to invest his time and energy into men and women who find themselves in prison.

In September, Zinedine stepped into the newly formed role of Manager, Prison Ministry coordinating volunteers and activities throughout eight prisons. Despite social distancing restrictions, Zinedine and his team of volunteers have continued to provide practical support through remote banking, property storage, and clothing packages.

Are you being summoned?

In 2021, we are looking for volunteers to come into prison with us.

We are recruiting Christian men and women with:

- Open hearts and listening ears
- Lived experience (desirable but not necessary)
- Care and compassion
- Maturity and wisdom

Birthday Stars

Our Birthday presents program has a new look and a new name! Birthday Stars is all about keeping families engaged, reminding children they are remembered on their special day. Your Birthday Stars donation of $40 per child enables us to empower imprisoned parents to make their child feel like a STAR!

To find out more or make a donation, visit secondchances.org.au.

Learning Together

We are constantly seeking to learn and grow. Recently, Second Chances SA staff participated in Aboriginal Cultural Awareness and Sensitivity Training with Haydyn Bromley from Bookabee Australia. The one-day training instilled the team with a greater appreciation of Aboriginal history and culture, including practical insights to help us be more welcoming and inclusive.
